

4D-mix³

Concept

One or more visitors may create each one's own musical remix by exploring a 3D space in which the parts (tracks) of a musical work are located. This space exists on the other side of a "mirror"--a fourth dimension where the visitor's "reflection" moves among the different parts of the music that sound when nearby---like a walk through an orchestra. Over time, a visitor's encounters with the sounds in the space are captured and layered upon each other, yielding a unique musical remix that reflects the visitor's particular movement through the 3D musical space. This remix is heard whenever the visitor is close to the mirror and his/her reflection. In this installation, each visitor has a direct and physical relationship to sound and music making.
